CHALLENGE OF THE MONTH

WRITE A 5 MINUTE MAGIC ROUTINE

Reading and watching videos is great to learn about performing. However, eventually, you have to step away from the book and make your own routine. Then you have to perform it. That is the best and only way to learn magic. This is the type of career and hobby that one can only become better by performing in front of people. So take some time this month and write a short routine. Perform it next month at the meeting.

OUT OF MY HAT

MICHAEL RAYMER,
PRESIDENT

I was pleasantly surprised by the Paul Richards lecture. I knew Paul is a very creative magician (as I have several of his effects) and expected to see a great dealer show. When you expect a dealer show and end up with a lecture of practical and performable magic with the theory behind it, you walk away having experienced something wonderful, and that is exactly what we had at our last meeting.

Unfortunately, we had too many life events (graduations, proms, vacations) going on to have our magic road trip to see Rodger Lovins' Magic Collection. We'll look at trying to take that trip later this year as Rodger says he's completely reworked his collection and has several new pieces that anyone who saw it before has not seen.

This month we have two back to back lectures. On Monday, June 10th, we have Chicago magician Scott Green who is a family and kid show entertainer. On Wednesday, June 19th, we have Dameon aka Hal Myers who will present his Back to Basics lecture. Hals lecture ties in with the "teach a trick" night that we have about this time of year as he will be covering a lot of basics of magic. I have heard from other clubs that he is an excellent teacher.

In July we'll be having our second Magic Bag Challenge and Bret Sohl who is handling the logistics of that meeting promises some surprises for us. Come Friday, July 12 and be ready to work as a team coming up with some incredible magic. Also in July is Pat Miller's the Magic and the Wonder show with Kevin James, Stephen Bargatze and Jessica Jane. So make plans to attend the Magic and the Wonder on Saturday, July 27 and 7:00 PM and help support the Kosair Charities.

We have a lot of great magical opportunities coming up and I hope to see you all there.

-Michael

FROM THE EDITOR

MATTHEW SOHL,
EDITOR

So I edit this newsletter each month and part of that is putting the date of the next lecture on the front page. Even after doing that, I still managed to put last month's meeting on the wrong day on my own calendar. So there's my excuse for missing the meeting.

But June is a new month! And this next meeting is on the right day on my calendar (I hope). This month will mark the halfway point of 2019. Which also means we are more than halfway to the closeup contest (Yes, I'm bringing it up again). Hopefully, many of you plan to compete this year! If you haven't started planning, you've still got time! Stop reading now and start planning. Then come back and finish reading the newsletter. Anyway, that's about all I have to say this month. See you at the meeting!
