David Garrard served as our LMC President from 2008-2012.

Have you checked in at our official LMC Facebook Group?

This is a closed group - meaning only members and friends of the LMC are invited to attend. This gives us another place to talk about magic, we can announce our shows, let you know about magical happenings in between meetings and just hangout and chat about magic.

Here's the link, if you haven't joined - request to join today and one of the administrators will get you in the group. <https://www.facebook.com/groups/202018196513920/>

My Monthly Musings

Jim Harris, President

We've had almost a dozen people join the Louisville Magic Club since the beginning of the year – we must be doing something right! Plus our old friend Terry Kelly joined us at the last meeting – his regular Tuesday night gig was cancelled and he is now working on a different night. Welcome to all of our new members! Let us know how we can make the club better - your input is important to us.

March 15 is “Do a trick” or “Teach a Trick” night. I want to encourage all of our new members to bring something to perform. This is a very informal night and you won't be judged. This is a chance to share your “type” of magic and let the other members know where your interests lie. This is a good night to learn some great magic secrets, and maybe pick up a few pointers on something you already do.

We've asked David Garrard to spend some time at the podium in April – his book should be available, and this would be a good time for him to share some of his 50 years of experience with us (yep, I know, he doesn't look that old). David is one of the most experienced magicians in this area, and is responsible for our annual fundraising show “It's Magic”. We are very fortunate to have David as an active club member.

From the Editor:

Last year I officially launched On-Call Coaching, a business to help small business owners reach their full potential. After having been a print shop owner for 17 years and a professional magician for over 35 years, I found that having a business coach helped me achieve more results and opened my eyes to things I hadn't thought about including how to sell my printing business when the time came.

After selling my printing company, I taught business courses at two local colleges and it was there that I discovered a lot of people want to be in business but really need help. I started offering business plan consulting and that evolved into the business coaching that I do today.

I wanted to let everyone know this as I know we have some new members and I'm not sure I know what everyone else does for a “living” outside of magic. I have a blog where I share topics on selling, branding, small business and sometimes just rants and raves, you can find the link below.

In other groups I belong to, one thing we do is have one-on-ones. That is a meeting between members where two members meet for breakfast, lunch or even just a drink and get to know more about each other and their businesses. I'd love to do that with each of you and get to know everyone better - I'm always available Monday's and Friday's.

See you at the meeting,

Michael
