FROM THE PRESIDENT | DENNIS ALM

We just wrapped the It's Magic show and I couldn't be happier with the show. Everything went as planned and all the acts were superb. We had 375 people in attendance and the club made just under $3000 for the event. If you had anything to do with the show, thank you! It takes a lot of work to pull these shows off and you guys showed up for the challenge. The close up acts were a hit, and the stage acts were absolutely fantastic. If you didn't see the show one of the highlights was Lance Burton presenting the first ever Harry Collins Mentorship Award to our very own David Garrard. Well-deserved David!

Magically yours,
Dennis

MEMBER HIGHLIGHT | TERRY KAEGIN

This month, we're thrilled to spotlight the one and only Terry Kaegin, a man of many talents, sharp wit, and an affinity for... hammering spikes through his foot?

Terry is a proud member of both the Society of American Magicians (SAM) and the International Brotherhood of Magicians (IBM). His journey into the magical arts began in a rather unique way—through severe loneliness and social isolation. Some people take up yoga or journaling; Terry picked up a deck of cards and a spike (we'll get to that).

When asked about his favorite tricks, Terry listed a few classic gems like Color Monte and B'Wave, but what really grabs attention is his nail-biting routine of hammering a spike through his foot! Clearly, this man knows how to leave an impression.

Terry draws inspiration from two comedic legends in magic: Doc Eason and The Amazing Johnathan. The latter's zany, unpredictable style has influenced Terry's approach, blending shock value with a side of humor.

His goals with magic? Simple: To get paid and pick up chicks. (We admire the honesty.)

But wait—there's more to Terry than just magic! He's a former tattoo artist, a sculptor, and a painter. Ever heard of Goose and Ostrich egg carving? Well, Terry has, and he's mastered it, alongside pen-and-ink drawings and pencil sketches.

As for tips for aspiring magicians? Terry's got it covered: "Try YouTube."

When he's not performing magic or creating art, you can find Terry being, well, Terry: a true original with a sharp sense of humor, a love for spectacle, and a creative spirit that goes way beyond the stage.

Terry, we salute you and your magical (and slightly dangerous) talents! Keep on hammering away—just maybe avoid the foot next time!

FROM THE EDITOR | MATT SOHL

Hey everyone! It's been a minute since we've sent out a newsletter (that's my fault). We haven't had a meeting in a minute, so I let life get busy, and didn't send any out!

Well, we are back at it this month. After a successful It's Magic Show at St. Matthew's Baptist Church, we have Losander coming in to lecture.

If you missed his lecture last time he was in town, I recommend clearing your calendar for this! It's on a Friday night instead of our typical Tuesday, so hopefully that means we will see some faces we don't always see on Tuesdays.

This is also a great lecture for someone who is getting into magic and is genuinely interested in the art. I mean, what is more magical than making things float!

Since I last wrote to you all, I actually filmed and recorded a magic vlog! You can find it on my YouTube channel. Click here to watch!

I've got a few more video ideas in mind and need to sit down and make the commitment to upload at least one video per week! I'll definitely be filming the process behind my close-up contest prep. Which means I need to start that this week! When you see me at the next meeting, make sure to ask if I've been preparing!

Anyway, I'll hopefully see you at the Losander lecture, if not before! Keep making magic!
